

STATE OF THE CITY OF WEST FORK 2016

Buildings and cities alike are only as strong as their foundations and 2016 was a year of laying the foundation to becoming a vibrant and growing city. In 2016 West Fork quietly forged ahead with technological and infrastructural advancements and planning across all departments. Please bear in mind the foundational stage of projects always seems to take the longest and requires the most patience. We have had substantial planning for the City infrastructure growth in Wastewater Treatment, Police department, Court System, Library, and the City Administration. We will begin to see some of this planning and foundational work coming to fruition as early as 2017, while some projects may reach even farther into the future for completion. In 2016 West Fork completed many smaller existing projects across our departments. We developed the plans and groundwork for many new projects, and added a couple outstanding employees. Employees include two new department heads Issac and Mark representing the Public Works and the Fire Department respectively. We also added Lori, Amanda, and Carl in support roles ranging from Police, Park, and Treasury respectively. West Fork is changing, it is not the same long established families anymore, we have become an inviting location for others to purchase homes and attend our schools. This is encouraging as it will certainly foster the much-needed growth that West Fork seeks. The State of the City of West Fork for 2016 is this "The Foundation has been Laid".
